Northfield Welcomes Delegates to the General Conference of Christian Workers

General Conference Opens Saturday; Large Delegation Expected

When D. L. Moody had in mind the establishment of the Northfield Seminary for girls—the Mt. Hermon school for boys—it was his desire that "Northfield may become a center for Bible instruction, where lectures and classes are held nearly every day in the year" and accordingly the Conferences of Christian workers was established in 1879—The Conferences are a part of the triple effort to maintain and perpetuate Mr. Moody's ideals. To these Conferences from time to time have come the great preachers, writers and thinkers of the religious world and thousands upon thousands of Christian workers have here sought the inspiration and fellowship which these Conferences have afforded. The Conference this year begins on Saturday with its large meetings being held in the Auditorium—and other gatherings in Sage Chapel—Silverthorne Hall and at Round Top.

Dwight L. Moody

Among the speakers are: Rev. John A. Hutton, D. D., of London, who will be present throughout the Conference; Rev. James Moffat of New York (Aug. 7-8); Rev. A. T. Robertson of Louisville, Ky. (Aug. 2-9); Rev. G. Campbell Morgan (Aug. 4-11); Rev. Charles R. Erdman of Princeton, N. J. (Aug. 1-4); Rev. James Vance of Nashville, Tenn. (Aug. 3-7); Rev. Adam Burnet of Glasgow, Scotland (Aug. 12-14).

Dr. Campbell Morgan's hour during the first week will be at 9 a.m. The Ministers' Meetings, in two sessions daily, will be held in Sage Chapel and addressed by Dr. John A. Hutton and Rev. James Moffat, to which the names of others will be added from time to time.

The Young Peoples' Meetings, which have for several years been conducted after the duties of the day are over, will be led by the Rev. Howard Morgan of Lexington, Ky. The needs, questions, and aspirations of youth will be dealt with with perfect candor and with sympathetic spirit.

Two new features will be introduced into the Conference this season in the matter of music. Mr. Homer Rodeheaver will conduct a daily session on leadership in Christian music. There are latent in many a church musical gifts that might prove invaluable if only wisely directed. With Mr. Rodeheaver's extended experience in the ministry of song, it is hoped that many churches will avail themselves of this opportunity to send some of their young people to take advantage of his helpful suggestions.

The musical features of the Conference will be further expanded by a class under Mr. Paul Beckwith in the qualifications for the accompanist. Here again there are many who are musically gifted, who may greatly increase their effective service in the church by simple but important considerations in accompanying a soloist or choruses.

Dr. A. T. Robertson, whose name is already endeared to many who have heard him in the past, will give a course on Paul's Last Message (Second Timothy).

Mr. William R. Moody will preside at this Conference assisted by his brother Mr. Paul Moody, President of Middlebury College. Rev. Robert Stewart will act as clerk of the sessions.

Community Vacation Bible School Makes Report

Mr. A. P. Fitt as chairman of the Community Committee which had charge of the Daily Vacation Bible School has reported at full length regarding its accomplishments and present status.

The members of the Committee were: Mr. A. P. Fitt, Mrs. Clarence M. Steadler, Merwin D. Birdsall, Rev. Wm. H. Giebel, Mrs. Charles L. Gilbert, Mr. Henry A. Johnson, Mrs. Carroll Miller, Mrs. Gordon Reed.

The committee treats the subject matter from a community standpoint and speaks of its success—the work done—its finances and its future.

Of the work done the report states: "The school was a success. The teaching staff consisted of local young ladies, Miss Ethelynd T. Sheldon, principal; Mrs. Carleton Holton, Mrs. George Sheldon, Miss Barbara Williams, Mrs. Donald Williams and Miss Helen Voree.

The curriculum was planned to include:

What every one should know about the Bible in English; Outline contents of the Bible; Memorizing of Bible passages, poems, hymns, etc.; Singing of patriotic and nature songs, hymns, etc.; story-telling; handwork on maps and pictures; supervised play outdoors; outdoor classes as the weather permitted."

Of the attendance:—

The total attendance of 80 was not a 100 per cent success, but there are reasons. Of the 80 enrolled over 30 lived in Northfield Center, about the same number in East Northfield, half a dozen in West Northfield, while the rest were summer visitors. Many children in the suburbs who would like to have attended were unable to do so for lack of transportation.

The average daily attendance, apart from summer visitors who came and went, was quite high for a non-compulsory school.

As to finances the report says:—The Committee decided to employ and pay its teachers and it was further decided to charge no fees, so that no child should be kept away for that cause. Hence it became necessary to solicit voluntary contributions from townspeople to meet the estimated budget of about $290.00.

The appeal has not been a success up to date (July 22) the total receipts are $168.85, from 61 donors, in sums of $1 to $10. This leaves a deficit of $136.00. In view of this deficit the treasurer will have to hold the account open until the balance is raised. His accounts will be audited in due time.

Mr. Fitt speaking for himself said, "I am frankly much surprised and disappointed with the small financial support given the school. I certainly thought a number of citizens I know would come across with one to five dollars for such a useful project. Perhaps they will yet, but so far the lack of financial support would deter me from advising another D. V. B. S., here unless some better plan is devised for its support. Meanwhile, how about the present deficit?"

A copy of the complete report will be left with the Town Clerk and anyone interested may call and study the same. It is planned another year to call a meeting of church folks who are interested and appoint a new general committee.

Items Of Interest

The 227 co-operative banks in Massachusetts are in a healthy condition despite the economic situation, according to a report issued Monday by the commissioner of banks, showing the condition on the last day of business in June as compared with previous periods. ### BIRNHAM HOUSE

Among the wooded Massachusetts hills, Where Nature's smile the heart with rapture thrills, Wide acres stretch as in an open park, Where silence reigns, save for a distant lark, Here lilacs bloom with hollyhocks And garden walks are lined with phlox.

Amid the beauty of this vast estate, A rich man built a house, both fair and great, And welcomed there his friends from far and wide, To rest themselves where joy and peace abide, Full many times its halls have rung, With happy songs which guests have sung.

Though of such days a story might be told, In course of years both house and grounds were sold, And this old home became a grand hotel, Where transient guests and city folk might dwell, They love the stately old chateau, As gentle summer zephyrs blow.

Although no friends who know are gathered near, The voices of the past we still may hear, One with an understanding heart can see The house was built in faithful piety By one who had a love for art, A gentleman of kindly heart.

The stately stairs, where beauty may be found, The music room, the pictures hung around, The library with ample fireplace, The chapel where all met with simple grace, All these a golden past may arouse, The former charm of Birnham House.

As to the show—there will be the greatest collection of animals, of frisks and performers ever seen in Northfield—and the famous Northfield Band will head the grand parade. If you can't laugh don't plan to attend this fun making show—Get one of the posters being distributed giving a list of events they will be well worth preserving as a souvenir of the event. ## EDITORIAL

When the well known writer and author Mr. C. K. Chesterton visited America last year he traveled about considerably and made a study of our community life. Upon his return he wrote of his impressions and made a statement that American small towns are ugly. The challenge was immediately accepted and replied to by Mr. Basil Selincourt in the London Times in the following words:

"Of course there is nothing like an English village outside of England, but there is nothing like a New England village outside of New England. I will never forget the impression I had on first entering one of these villages—the name escapes me, for there are hundreds of its kind. Cool, white houses of a spacious welcoming design stood unfenced in a continuous lawn on either side of a wide avenue of overhanging trees, with other trees around and behind them. It was not like a wood, for there was too much light and air, and it was not like a cathedral, for there was no roof but the sky. But it was the noblest accommodation of man's life and nature's that I have yet encountered. And it was not moldering, it was not 'preserved.' It was alive."

This is good for Mr. Selincourt and he deserves honorable mention. Had the Hon. Mr. Chesterton visited Northfield his impressions of a small town being beautiful instead of ugly might have resulted.

A plea for calm sanity and a commonsense attitude by the people of Northfield is hoped for amidst the noisy clamor of certain health officials, doctors and veterinarians who are rushing into public print for one purpose or another on the dog question and trying to make us believe we have a rabies epidemic. If these same people were more concerned about the living conditions of animals—of children too and did something to help and improve such living conditions they would be doing something worthwhile and constructive for both animals and human beings.

Entirely too many superstitious ideas still surround the subject, according to the Chappel Kennel Foundation.

"Superstition has it, for instance, that dogs are much more likely to go mad during summer 'dog days' than at any other time of the year. The fact is that rabies is no more common in August than in January, and rare at any time. It is heard of more in summer because of the greater outdoor freedom of both men and animals. What often appears to be the average person to be rabies is recognized by the experienced dog breeder as such common ailments as running fits, convulsions, indigestion, sun-stroke, etc.

There would be many less "mad dog" episodes if strangers avoided petting or teasing dogs which are made irritable and uncomfortable by the heat as much as man, the foundation states. Contrary to the general belief, there need be no hysteria when an excess of saliva from the dog's mouth is noticed. Dogs more than other animals suffer unmercifully from lack of water and a cool, quiet place to rest. A horse can sweat through his skin and be cooled by the evaporating moisture, but a dog can only pant. Dogs sweat mostly through the tongue and when uncomfortable perfectly healthy dogs frequently slobber and foam at the mouth.

Exercising dogs on a lead strap is an excellent precautionary measure. It should be borne in mind that a really mad dog flies forward aimlessly instead of going deliberately from one to another and does not attack unless provoked or annoyed, so that a person keeping out of his path is safe."

The Daily Vacation Bible School held at the North Church during July has ended its sessions and the report of the Committee in charge is most interesting. If any mistake was made in its planning it was its establishment as a Community proposition, for the Community has not given it the full support which it requires and the Treasury is burdened with a deficit. Perhaps we have not reached that period when members of the various faiths can co-ordinate their efforts in a federated movement for the common good such as this was. Just now some one must "dig down" to pay the bills but before another year's effort is renewed a plan should be evolved by those concerned to raise the necessary funds from and among those interested in advance, if on a community basis or else permit a single church to adopt and support the effort as its own.

As we go to press word reaches us that the Governor's council has refused to confirm Dr. Fowler's appointment. See article on Page 18.

New Marriage Intention Law Is Effective Now

Operation of a new law to take effect today will make it possible for the legal guardian, parent or physician of a person intending to file intentions of marriage to file the intention in case of sickness of the contracting party. Such action may be taken only when a registered physician submits a sworn affidavit that such person is unable to appear on account of illness.

The entire law relative to intentions of marriage has been revamped and all the changes will take effect at the same time. Where both parties live in the same city or town both must appear and file intentions whereas under the law now in effect only one has to sign. In cases where the parties live in different towns each must file in the town of his residence. Where both live outside the state both must file intentions in the city or town where they intend to be married.

Cars Damaged In Auto Accident

On the Northfield-Bernardston Road just this side of Bernardston last Saturday afternoon two automobiles came together through a misunderstanding of each driver's intentions and although the cars were some what damaged no one was seriously injured. A sedan operated by Florence N. Streeter of Mt. Hermon and Ella S. Smith of Ridgefield, N. J., were in collision.

According to State Patrolman Walter Burke of the Shelburne Falls barracks, who investigated the case, the Streeter car was entering the main highway from an intersecting road leading to the Pine View camps. The Smith woman, thinking the Streeter machine was not going to stop, swerved to one side of the road and her automobile crashed into a tree, sideswiping the Streeter car as it went by.

The People's Forum

Dear Mr. Editor,

Since Northfield will be the home for two weeks and longer of hundreds of preachers, and we all wish to do the proper thing for our many guests, the following from the Lynn, Mass., Times may give us a hint regarding an all-too common error.

"We received a letter from the Boston University School of Religious Education this week addressed 'Rev. Bosc' both on envelope and enclosure. The telephone rings—'Is this Reverend Rose?' The presiding officer rises—'Reverend Rose will now address us.' Japanese school boy stuff. 'Reverend' is an adjective, like 'honorable.' Nobody would say 'Honorable Hoover' in addressing the President. Some titles are nouns, such as Governor, Admiral, Mayor. 'Governor Ely' is correct. 'The Honorable Mr. Ely' is correct. 'Reverend Mr. Rose' or 'Reverend Dr. Rose' is correct in speech or writing. 'Reverend Rose in speech, or writing is simply horrible. Please don't.' Let's address our clergymen who are with us as Reverend Mr.—

Yours for progress

"Seed"

A challenge to women in love! That is the absorbing theme of the picture "Seed," filmed from Charles G. Norris' great novel, with John Boles, Genevieve Tobin and Lois Wilson in the leading roles to be shown at the Brattleboro Auditorium next week Wednesday and Thursday. This book has been much talked about in Northfield and recently was discussed by a number of our summer residents gathered for a social hour. The play dealing seriously with domestic problems is always full of interest, if it is well done. And "Seed" is much better than "well done," in its unfolding the challenge to women in love, which is its motivating theme, builds up to a great and totally unexpected climax. The story was adapted from Norris' much-discussed best-seller, and its principal roles are acted by a trio of players whose ability is of a very high order. John Boles is seen as a husband and father whose latent abilities as a writer have been wrecked because he must continually devote himself to the difficult task of supporting a large family of children. The handsome Boles reveals new powers as a dramatic actor, and proves that he can register a distinct hit in a part that does not call for the use of his singing voice. Genevieve Tobin gives a magnificent portrayal of the boyhood sweetheart of the would-be writer. She appears ten years after his marriage and stirs his ambition which, under her inspiration, flames into successful creative writing. Then there is the third member of this remarkable trio of players—Lois Wilson, in the role of the author's wife, the mother of his five children. Her performance is a classic of acting—unquestionably the greatest mother-actress ever seen on the screen, and utterly natural. It is the situation between the two women for the love of the man that dominates the action of the story. The supporting cast includes Raymond Hackett, Bette Davis, ZaSu Pitts, Frances Dade, Richard Tucker, and a remarkable group of five children who add greatly to the enjoyment of the picture.

CAN YOUR WIFE CHANGE A TIRE?

Honestly, aren't you asking too much of Fate to trust those old tires when your wife drives? Hailing strangers for help, if she has a puncture, is often disagreeable. You'd feel a lot better if you knew she were protected also against possible accident. It will ease your mind and be easy on your purse to have us put on some new Goodyears now.

Last Sunday At The Unitarian Church

The service last Sunday at the Unitarian Church was the closing service of the summer and it was a deeply significant service. The sermon was by Rev. Leslie T. Pennington of All Souls' Church, Braintree, Mass., who spoke from the text "And David longed, and said, Oh that one would give me water to drink of the well of Bethlehem, which is by the gate." "David's thirst was more than a physical thirst," said Rev. Mr. Pennington. "It was a symbol of his longing for his homeland then in possession of the enemy. His words fell upon minds charged with the same longing and drew from them heroic action. Understanding that heroic action and whence it had arisen, David could not drink water brought to him. By the heroism of his mighty men it became a sacrament of devotion, so sacred that it would only be poured out as an offering to the living God. David knew how to tap the deep sources of spiritual power in the souls of men, and he knew too that that power was too sacred to be used selfishly. "To-day with six million men suffering from unemployment we are beginning to fear that business leadership has failed us. Political leadership has already failed us. The graves of ten million men who died in the Great War bear witness of that. There are those who feel that even spiritual leadership is failing us, that Protestantism is impotent in this day of need. In the East a Hindu, Mahatma Gandhi, has shown us a new power of Christ. Men's hearts are filled with longing, with spiritual power which should be released. But it can only be released by those of utter selfish ends, but for the service of humanity and who will use it, not for manly and the glory of God. Never before has humanity needed spiritual leadership so badly. Who will arise and answer its call?"

Tax Rates As Announced

Last week the town of Deerfield announced its tax rate for 1931 as $26.60 which was an increase of $2.70 over last year. Now the town of Ashfield announces its rate as $32.50 for 1931 an increase of $5 more than last year—well—well—what a beginning and these increases made in a time of depression which demands lower tax rates and more economy in expenditures.

Automobile Tours And Trips From Northfield

Among New England's
Highest Mountain Peaks

If you want to feel on top of the world there's no place like Mt. Washington.

It's the highest mountain in New England, 6,293 feet to be exact. And you can drive clear to the top if you don't feel like climbing on foot.

As a cathedral stands out among churches, so do the White Mountains stand out among all the other mountains of the east. A towering cathedral of nature which will awe and inspire you. A superb structure whose vastness brings peace of mind and a saner slant on life's affairs.

There are three main ranges in the White Mountains. The renowned Presidential range, the Franconia range to the southwest, the Carter-Moriah range to the east.

Figures hardly indicate the number and sublimity of these peaks. Yet imagination will tell you what is in store for you from the fact that there are seventy-four peaks over 3000 feet high, twelve over 5000 feet.

The most lordly of these Mt. Washington, rises above timber line into a subarctic zone, where you will find alpine flowers, not found elsewhere this side of Labrador.

And the view! On a clear day you can see a hundred miles in every direction. The Maine Coast, Quebec, the Green Mountains, all are visible. The eye covers an area of over 30,000 square miles, range after range of hills, for all the world like the waves of a stormy sea.

Here is a suggested route that will take you to most of the show places of these mountains, but check it before starting. If you are approaching from the south, head for Concord, Laconia and Lake Winnepesaukee. Then drive on to Plymouth and up the beautiful Pemigewasset valley which has been rightly called the sublime portal of the White Mountains. At North Woodstock you will want to stop over long enough to see the fantastic caves and gorges of the lost River. As you proceed north look out for Indian Head and the Old Man of the Mountain, two of the most famous profiles of the White Mountains.

After passing through Franconia Notch turn east through Bretton Woods, Crawford Notch and Glen. Here turn north through Pinkham Notch to Glen House where the old

Still keeping north through Gorham, follow the picturesque road along the Androscoggin through Dixroad branches off to Mt. Washington. The route turns south through Stratford and Lancaster, then past Jefferson and through the heart of the Presidential range to Gorham again. The second trip through Pinkham Notch, this time going south, will be as fascinating as the first.

Then to complete your visit to New Hampshire's scenic wonderland turn south through the Conways to gaze at Mt. Chocoma, which Whittier thought the finest peak in the State. Tours and Detours.

Brattleboro To Check
Fast Auto Driving

Brattleboro officials have taken the first step against automobile speeding in that town by authorizing its police to make immediate arrests. The first victim to fall in the meshes of the law was a motorcyclist and it cost him $5 and costs of $7.55. Scores of complaints have been pouring into police headquarters the past few weeks, and the board of selectmen also has received its share of complaints on the same matter.

Although the speed limit in town is 20 miles an hour the police chief stated that the department was not making it a point to keep motor vehicles down to a minimum. On the other hand there are certain places in town where a speed of 30 miles becomes a menace to public safety.

"I do not believe that the police are becoming unreasonable in asking drivers to use more care," Chief LaDuke declared. Motorists from Massachusetts and especially from Northfield should exercise extreme care.

Northfield's Summer Residents are cordially invited to visit The New Garden Theatre (Main Street, near Federal) or The Newly Re-modeled Lawler Theatre (Federal Street, near Main)—Greenfield's Cool and Comfortable Public Theatres. See list attractions on page Fourteen.

Arguments Over Courthouse
Brought Out Again

A number of the towns in Franklin County through their selectmen are protesting against the procedure which is to give the county the luxury of a new court house building in Greenfield at the expense of its inhabitants who are the owners of its property now overburdened with excessive taxation. A letter signed by Selectmen Frank G. Roeder of Montague, Carlton P. Davenport of Shelburne, Philip F. Whitmore of Sunderland, Frank A. Howe of Orange and Harry A. Wells of Deerfield has been sent to the selectmen of all county towns asking for an expression of opinion as to the advisability of seeking another hearing before the board of county commissioners with the purpose of presenting additional views regarding the cost of the proposed building.

Relative to the hearing of June 22, when four of the selectmen's committee appeared before the county commissioners, the letters point to the fact that notice of the meeting was not mailed by the commissioners to members of the committee until Saturday, June 20, so that some did not receive the notice until the actual date of the meeting and it was too late for them to attend.

The letters also call attention to the discrepancy between the desire of the commissioners to build a new courthouse and the attempts of the state tax commissioner to keep down tax rates throughout the state. The selectmen's committee also protests the desire of all departments which will occupy the proposed building to have outside rooms in it on the ground such a plan would increase the cost of the structure at the expense of the county for the benefit of those officials who will occupy it.

Reference is also made to the inability of the committee to get any adequate estimate of the final cost of the building and equipment. The selectmen of each town are asked to write officially to the commissioners urging economy and suggesting a general meeting of all county selectmen with the commissioners.

Hinsdale

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kendrick and family of Hinsdale, N. H., have returned from a week's vacation spent at Round Pond on Mt. Pisgah. On Thursday they entertained at camp Mr. and Mrs. Farquhar Laughton of Springfield, Mass., and Mr. H. O. Bolton of Ashuelot, N. H.

Greenfield's Fair

Greenfield's Live Wire Fair dates have been fixed for September 14, 15, and 16th and the Committee in charge are pushing the plans forward for the various exhibits and attractions.

Bolton Family Reunion

Held At Ashuelot

The annual re-union of the Bolton family was held at the homestead in Ashuelot, Sunday July 26th. By ten o'clock several groups had gathered on the spacious grounds at twelve-thirty, a bounteous buffet dinner was served on the broad front lawn, consisting of baked beans, salad, pickles, rolls, potato chips, punch, cakes, cookies and ice cream. Shortly after dinner a brief business meeting was held with the president, Richard Holton of Brooklyn, N. Y., presiding. Officers elected for the ensuing year are as follows:—President, Mrs. Arthur Bolton, Secretary and Treasurer, Miss Ellen Bolton, Dinner Chairman, Mrs. Forest Bolton and Program Chairman Mrs. Lee Bolton. Mrs. Fred Bolton was given a rising vote of thanks for her service as chairman of the dinner committee for this year's event.

The short program which followed, arranged by Mrs. Fred Kendrick was opened by an address of welcome by Mr. James Bolton, host. Then followed group singing, recitations by several of the children, musical selections by Mrs. Viola Stebbins of Vernon, Vt., who is an adept on the Autoharp and whose playing and singing were much enjoyed. During the few years that these gatherings have been held, several of our loved members have passed away, Mrs. Burnie Grow of Winchester, N. H., Mr. George Kendrick of Hinsdale, N. H., and during the past year, Mr. Coombs of Brattleboro, Vt., and Mrs. H. O. Bolton of Ashuelot, N. H. For these who could not answer the roll call, a brief memorial service was conducted by Richard Holton of Brooklyn, N. Y.

A poetic gem written by Janet Bolton (Mrs. H. O. Bolton) and dedicated to James Bolton last remaining civil war veteran of Ashuelot, N. H., was read by Lorna Kendrick and an original poem by Viola Stebbins on the passing of the dear ones, was read by her, followed by a minute of silence in loving memory.

Of the eighty relatives gathered together the eldest of the group was Albert Doolittle aged eighty-seven, James Bolton, eighty-six, Amos Bolton, eighty-four, Herbert Bolton seventy-seven and Mrs. Nell Johnson seventy-nine. Ida Bolton Shaw, sister to James, Amos and Herbert, was unable to attend this year. The youngest member present was the thirteen months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Bolton of East Northfield. The very youngest member could not attend as she was too young to make the trip from New York. She is the seven weeks old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Holton of Brooklyn, N. Y. Letter and telegrams of regret were read from Mass., Pa., and Montana. The states represented were New York, Mass., Vermont, New Hampshire and Texas.

The Christian Endeavor Conference To Meet Here In August

The Christian Endeavor Conference is scheduled to meet in Northfield in August and the dates are August 17th to 24th. Young people who are already active in positions of leadership or those who have promise of leadership ability in the ranks of Christian Endeavor society are expected to be in attendance as delegates. The conference is planned for the development of leadership.

All who are chosen as delegates should understand the purpose of the conference and signify their willingness to co-operate in upholding conference standards. Regular attendance at classes, faithful observance of rest and retirement hours, hearty co-operation in the social program and the laying aside, during this week, of personal habits not consistent with the best interest of the conference as a whole are obligations to be accepted by every delegate, as well as the secret of the greatest enjoyment and good to the individual and the group. All young people wishing to train in leadership and who have a definite interest in Christian Endeavor are invited to become delegates to this conference.

With its varied program of worship, study and recreation, a summer conference is an experience to be lived, not a program to be described. It might well be called an experiment in Christian living, resulting in a new vision of life's privileges and obligations. The aim of the conference is to deepen the spiritual insight of the to enlarge the spiritual outlook and helpfully live. The committee is delegate that he may more richly and pleased to be able to announce the following leaders.

Dr. Maurice A. Levy, of Pittsfield, Massachusetts, will speak each morning at the Chapel Service. He will bring messages of inspiration, cheer and challenge.

Rev. Allan D. Creelman, of North Scituate, Massachusetts will open the conference on Monday evening. He is the Pastoral Counselor of the Massachusetts Union and in that capacity will act as Dean of Personal Relations.

Dr. Tehyi Hsieh of Boston, Massachusetts, is recognized as the outstanding representative of China in the United States today. He has a dynamic personality and a thrilling message for youth.

Mr. Alvin J. Shurtle visited Oberammergau with the Christian Endeavor Friendship Pilgrimage in 1930. He has colored pictures of the play and the players and explains the setting of this mighty drama of the Passion Play as presented by the humble peasants in the quaint Bavarian village.

Dr. William Hiram Foulke is known to young people the country over. His influence is wide and mighty. Northfield is fortunate in se-

NORTHFIELD

Fair are the rolling Northfield hills,
All carpeted in green,
Fair are the elms which span her street,
The river winding at her feet,
Her fields in beauty seen.

At every season of the year,
A charm here may be found,
And in her homes an atmosphere,
Of old New England faith sincere,
Where virtues still abound.

Yet Northfield was a little town,
Remote within the state,
And, like the land of Galilee,
A place which few would ever see,
Save there the master spake.

For here the voice Divine was heard
By prophet sent of God,
And Moody brought unto this place
A countless throng of every race
Acclaiming Christ as Lord.

High on the sides of Rustic Ridge,
Like Arabs they have camped;
As birds of flight, they come and go,
But some return for winter's snow,
And through the hills have tramped.

Forth from the schools established here
Young men and maidens fair
Have gone in faith to do their part,
With well trained mind and kindled heart
The Gospel to declare.

An organ played with skillful hand,
Or master's old violin,
No finer melody could bring,
Than when Sage chimes do softly ring,
As evening prayers begin.

Or when with reverent heart we bow,
By Rount-top's honored graves,
And, as the lengthened shadows fall,
A hymn resounds which tell us all
The truth that Jesus saves.

O Northfield, we have loved thee well,
A kindly queen art thou;
We lift our hearts in thankful praise,
As thy dear name we do upraise,
Our loyalty we vow.

SUNSET AT NORTHFIELD

Across the western hills the sun has set
In glorious shades of crimson and of gold,
Such glory as invites the eye to get
A glimpse of glory that God's Word has told.

I fain would see those battlements so high,
That mark those far-receding walls four-square,
Those pinnacles that pierce the heavenly sky
And rise above its mansions bright and fair.

I fain would hear that heavenly hymn of praise
The blessed sing to their Redeemer—King;
Perhaps the song my longing heart doth raise
In harmony with that above may ring.

My feet would walk those peaceful, spacious streets
Whose traffic is the business of the King;
Where playing children run with joy to greet
Their Friend, and to His hands so fondly cling.

Ah! yes, I dare to ask some kindly guide
To tell me where my blessed kindred dwell;
Enough to know where those I loved abide,
To know that all with them and me is well.

And while these glorious sunsets come and go,
Whose tints do weave their tapestry so thin,
God gives the longing, trusting heart to know
A little of the bliss that is within.

Blue Tickets To 7,000 Autoists In June

The state police arrested one-third more motorists in the first half of this year than in the same period a year ago. Always recording a large percentage of convictions, this body of officers still further increased the proportion of results during the past six months. The rise in automobile arrests and convictions, furthermore, was considerably greater than the gain in volume of all the force's combined activities. The offenses for which the state patrolmen brought the most offenders to court were the four forms of reckless or careless driving that are the object of this month of the state-wide campaign being conducted by local and state police. The governor's committee on street and highway safety, which is directing the drive, in announcing those figures, warned Massachusetts drivers of the even greater tightening of highway discipline during the campaign and cited the conviction totals for those four violations as four good reasons for avoiding in July the blue tickets, which were handed to more than 7,000 drivers in June.

Visit This Famous Cave

At Leicester, twenty miles north of Rutland, Vt., inquire about the side-road to Lake Dunmore. This lake is well worth visiting, for its own beauty, for its historic cave and for the very beautiful chain of cascades that tumble down into it from Silver
Lake six hundred feet above.

Just a few minutes' drive north of the spot where Lake Dunmore receives the waters of the upper lake, you will find Ethan Allen's cave. It stands near the road, the spot being marked by an inscription.

The story of the cave is that here
the fearless Vermont hero, with but a score of his men, stood off a whole regiment of the enemy. It seems that nothing ever stumped these Green Mountain Boys and that Allen himself did not know the meaning of fear, either of the enemy or of the Continental congress. Blusterer though he was at times, he never failed in his very practical and loyal affection for Vermont.

The lake shore here is a charming spot for lunch or for an hour's loaf or better yet, for both.—Tours and Detours.

P. O. Dept Buys Fords

Mr. Ross L. Spencer of Spencer Bros., Garage has just been advised that the United States Post Office Department has just placed an order with the Washington branch of the Ford Motor Company for 1,500 motor truck chassis, of which 500 will be 3-4 ton carrying capacity and 1,000 of 1-2 tons carrying capacity. The purchase of the motor equipment was the largest made by a government department since the war. With this order Ford sales to the Post Office Department during recent years reached a total of 2,900 units.

The completed trucks will then be distributed to some 60 cities throughout the United States.

The order was placed with the Ford company after an exhaustive test conducted by the Department with the co-operation of the Bureau of Standards. The tests were under the supervision of W. A. Jacobs, automotive engineer of the Bureau of Standards, and William Wolma of Chicago and Morris Carrier of Brooklyn, motor vehicle engineers of the Post Office Department.

Dr. Lawlor Formerly Of Millers Falls Named
To Medical Board

Dr. James J. Lawlor, formerly of Millers Falls but now of Cambridge was nominated recently by Gov. Joseph B. Ely to succeed Dr. Frank M. Vaughan, secretary of the state board of registration in medicine, whose commission has expired. The nomination has not been acted on by the governor's council as yet.

Dr. Lawlor is well known in Millers Falls and Northfield Farms where he has practiced and was a member of the staff of the Farren Memorial hospital. He was born in Cambridge in 1894 and after coming to Millers Falls was very active in the town affairs, having organized the Millers Falls Board of Trade serving as its first president.

He was also a commander of the local American Legion Post. He left Millers Falls in 1928 to go to Vienna to take a post surgical course, and upon his return to this country became assistant to the superintendent of the Middlesex hospital at Cambridge, which is conducted in connection with the Middlesex College of Medicine and surgery, from which he was graduated in 1920. His wife is a member of the Massachusetts bar.

Five Precautionary
Measures Suggested

Few people realize that there are six burglaries for every fire, said Mr. Colton of the Colton's Insurance Agency, in a recent interview. As a consequence they sometimes fail to exercise even the most elementary precautions. In fact, there is a decided tendency to minimize the possibility of loss from burglary, robbery, theft and larceny.

This tendency, says Mr. Colton is costing the American people over $250,000,000 a year. A big percentage of this staggering loss occurs during the months of July and August when so many families are absent from their homes.

Many people, before going away, buy burglary insurance and thereby escape any financial loss at the hands of marauders, but as all home owners know, dollars and cents can never adequately replace valued gifts, family heirlooms, or treasured household furnishings.

Mr. Colton suggests that before leaving a house unoccupied, owners should lock all windows and doors, leave the shades UP not down, cancel house deliveries of newspapers and milk, notify the post office not to leave mail, and put all the valuables possible in safe deposit boxes or in storage. These precautionary measures should materially reduce the chances of burglars discovering that the house is unoccupied.

Vacant houses are not, however, the only ones subject to loss, continued Mr. Colton. In fact, a large percentage of the burglary, theft and larceny losses in residences are caused by dishonest servants, casual employees, delivery men, fake inspectors, etc. Even the most trusted servants have been known to yield to temptation when handling jewelry, silks, expensive suits and other property. It is therefore important to take precautions whether staying at home or going away.

Parcel Post Advantages
Increased August First

Under new regulations effective August 1, 1931 the limit of weight for fourth class or parcel post mail for the fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth zones is increased from 50 to 70 pounds, thus making the weight limit uniform for all zones; and the limit of size of parcels for all zones is increased from 84 inches to 100 inches in length and girth combined.

The minimum postage charge on a parcel measuring more than 84 inches but not more than 100 inches in length and girth combined is the same as the appropriate zone charge for a 10 pound parcel. That is parcels measuring more than 84 inches in length and girth combined but weighing less than 10 pounds will be subject to postage in the amount chargeable on a 10 pound parcel for the zone to which the particular parcel may be addressed. On parcels weighing 10 pounds or more, which measure more than 84 inches but not more than 100 inches in length and girth combined the regular zone pound rates apply.

The foregoing modifications have been made for the purpose of increasing the usefulness and availability of the parcel post as a convenient means of transportation and delivery for merchandise, including farm and factory products, books and other mailable articles, weighing over 8 ounces, not embraced in mail of the first or second class.

Booth Tarkington Thought

Booth Tarkington thought that Penrod had a pretty fine circus, but that was because Booth Tarkington never heard of the stupendous one-ring circus which the conference employees are staging at eight-thirty to night in Skinner Gymnasium. It has always been the secret desire of the management to perform in this their native town without any charge for admission, but because of the high cost of the specially imported Arabian sandwast, a fee of five cents will be asked of all who seek admittance. Quoting the New York Times: "It is the biggest and best amateur circus the world has ever seen, even better than Darling Dingling."

In St. Louise a man ran his automobile over a girl and she married him. Most similar offenders escape with lighter punishment.
